

Health Care Security Solutions

A Fully Integrated Protection Approach

For more than 55 years, Sonitrol Great Lakes has been providing comprehensive security solutions to a wide array of institutions, from school districts to manufacturing companies and health care organizations.

Our tested methods and security resources are a perfect match for the highly sensitive health care community, whether it is a large regional hospital or a small urgent care center, a small-town physician's office or a medium-size assisted living center.

Sonitrol's expertise in assessing a facility's vulnerabilities and recommending appropriate, cost-effective solutions to secure your property makes us a go-to resource for your security needs.

Taking Care of Those Who Take Care of Us

Besides worries over potential data breaches, medical institutions are vulnerable to security threats in a number of areas, according to industry experts.

Health care facilities face access concerns, threats to medical supply chains and to facilities themselves, especially those that stock supplies of medications. Assisted living and long-term health care centers must focus on keeping residents secure and watched over, requiring comprehensive solutions and physical resources.

Strict HIPAA guidelines and compliance issues have also resulted in a greater need for a focused security approach by health care facilities.
